Amigos

Amigos is a location based android service app. Basically people have trouble finding places they want, when they enter an unknown area. For example finding a restaurant or a friends house. This problem can be overcome by using our app. If any of your friends from your contacts are present in the specified range , you can ask them the directions to the desired place you want to go in that area. Our app includes google maps, where the users friend can draw real-time sketches on the map to show the path where the user wants to go.

NightHawk

Night Hawk (Game) , is a 2D platform game targeted for the windows platform. In game, being a rouge ninja you have to jump your way through the hurdles. The front-end of the game was built using Photoshop and Blender, the sprites used in the game were created by us. The game was coded in C#.
